LAURA M. MIRANDA
ATTORNEYS AT LAW PLLC

"Our constitution doesn't say 'Citizens.' It says 'All Men Are Created Equal.' The current environment is eroding the principals on which our nation is based."

Laura M. Miranda, a Cornell Law School Graduate, practices criminal law in New York State and New England. With 17 years of experience and over 70 jury trials, she still loves to fight for justice. Raised in Puerto Rico during her teenage years, Ms. Miranda gained an understanding of the significance of human rights underlying the law. She's known for defending several high profile murder cases, New York, People v. Cortez, and People v. Marston; Boston, Massachusetts v. Diaz. She also lectures on critical litigation skills, cross-examination and negotiation. Every Thursday, Ms. Miranda provides legal advice at Lawyers.com. Protecting our constitution, in State & Federal court, she seeks to ensure equality and justice for all.
